RELIVING PIONEER DAYS — Partly hidden by puffs of smoke, Tom Pike of Near Guilford Lake pulls on an elaborate Indian tomahawk pipe. The 44-year-old Ohio Edison company foreman has built a one-man stockade near Guilford on the famous Tuscarora Trail to survey rugged country once populated by Iroquois and Senecas. He plans to open the replica stronghold as a museum and stock it with items of the frontier days. Tom finds the hobby agreeable since the Indians expressed disagreement by turning the pipe's blade upward.

Police Case Goes To Jury Today

Cunningham Pleads Loss of Memory

LISBON — Closing arguments were being presented this morning in Common Pleas Court in the case of Ira Cunningham, 51, former East Liverpool police officer accused of attempting to bribe a prospective juror.

The case is expected to go to the jury sometime today after a charge by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Cunningham was indicted in November of attempting to bribe Donald Lockhart, a drug store employee called for duty on a jury hearing a burglary charge against Cunningham.

Cunningham testified Tuesday afternoon that he could not remember events which occurred last October and November.

He said he did not recall the Burbick Hardware burglary trial in which he was convicted last November, or talking to Lockhart about his jury service.

Cunningham, pale and drawn, remained sitting in the witness stand after he was dismissed yesterday, informing Judge Sharp he was too weak to move.

Judge Sharp recessed court then, and Cunningham was helped from the stand by his wife and his attorney.

Cunningham was hospitalized in Wheeling, W. Va., for two weeks in late November and December for psychiatric treatment. He testified yesterday he is still receiving treatment from a neurologist and a psychiatrist.

3 Youths Sentenced On Contributing Charge

LISBON — Three Lisbon youths were sentenced in juvenile court this morning for contributing to delinquency of two 15-year-old Lisbon girls.

George Edward Dotson, 19, and a 17-year-old boy were given three months in county jail by Judge Louis Tobin. The 16-year-old boy was sent to the Boys Industrial School in Lancaster.

One of the girls was placed in custody of the welfare department and the other was returned to the detention room at the county jail until Monday to give the judge time to decide what should be done with her.

The five were picked up this morning at 4 a. m. by the Carrollton police in a car purchased by the youths from $50 stolen Sunday from one of the girls' sister, who was visiting in Lisbon.

Campaign Goal Is $22,191

Red Cross to Open Fund Drive Monday

The goal for the 1959 Red Cross fund drive which begins Monday has been set at $22,191, campaign chairman J. H. Wilson Jr. announced today.

Co-chairman is Kenneth Jones. Campaign leaders and team workers will begin their solicitations immediately following a coffee and doughnuts breakfast Monday morning at the Memorial Building.

Similar cutbacks go into effect April 1 on imports of gasoline and other finished petroleum products.

President Eisenhower ordered the new import controls Tuesday, saying he acted in the interest of national security.

Eisenhower's proclamation, advocated for some time by domestic oil and gas producers, is expected to reduce crude oil imports by about 15 per cent east of the Rocky Mountains.

There was no immediate indication what effect the new controls might have on domestic prices.

But in a statement accompanying the proclamation, Eisenhower indicated the government will watch to see whether consumers are hurt from the cutback in foreign supplies.

Discussing the new order with reporters, Navy Capt. Matthew Carson Jr., administrator of the oil import program, said he didn't expect the restrictions to result in price increases.

In addition to crude oil, mandatory cutbacks went into effect today on unfinished petroleum products. The new curbs replace a voluntary but largely ineffective program which has been in operation since mid-1957.

Eisenhower's order was promptly acclaimed by oil and coal state members of Congress. Some questioned, however, whether the new controls would cut imports far enough.

2 Men Involved With Girl, 16, Sentenced

LISBON — Two men were sentenced Tuesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin after a hearing for contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old Hanoverton area girl.

Roy Levengood, 23, of Box 123, Kensington, was bound over to April Grand jury under $3,000 bond for incest and Arthur Carmen, 37, of Minerva, father of five children, was sentenced to six months in county jail for contributing to the same girl.

The girl is being held in the county jail detention room.

Iraq-U. A. R. Relations Sink To New Low

10 Delegates of Arab Organization Expelled by Kassem

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Relations between Iraq and President Nasser's United Arab Republic sank to a new low today as a result of the revolt against the left-leaning Iraqi government.

The Baghdad government claimed it had smashed the revolt against Premier Abdel Karim Kassem and reports spread that some of the rebel army officers were trying to escape across the Syrian border. Other reports said fighting was still going on, apparently by desperate holdouts trying to flee the country.

Charges Are Leveled

The U. A. R.'s semi-official Middle East News Agency charged that Iraqi planes had shot up a Syrian border village. The agency also reported that Iraqi planes had strafed several Iraqi villages in the Mosul area near the border.

Kassem meanwhile expelled 10 U. A. R. diplomats assigned to the Baghdad embassy, declaring they were a menace to public safety. The Baghdad correspondent of the Middle East News Agency also was ordered out.

Nine of the ousted diplomats arrived in Cairo and reported that the Baghdad government apparently was still digging in for a fight.

First reports of the revolt made clear that the rebellious army officers wanted to swing the Iraqi government toward Nasser and opposed the growing influence of the Iraqi communists on Kassem.

Military governor Ahmed Saleh el Abdi in a broadcast over Baghdad radio blamed a "foreign power" for sparking the rebellion. It

But Doesn't Deviate From Goal

Khrushchev Diplomacy Displays Imagination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every few days now Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev comes up with a new proposal for dealing with the Berlin crisis.

His record is impressive for imagination in fast diplomatic footwork. Sometimes he even seems to contradict himself.

But in the midst of the confusion, which he may deliberately seek in order to obscure the real issues, one fact stands out clearly. He is still pursuing his original purpose, announced just four months ago, to try to force the Western powers to give up their position in West Berlin.

This showcase of Western Democracy and prosperity in the heart of Communist East Germany is an irritant. He may be willing to risk war to remove it.

In the ultimate showdown, most Western officials are convinced Khrushchev will pull back before plunging the world into war. But they also think he will go very close to the brink if he has to in order to test Western determination to hold fast in Berlin.

Khrushchev's latest maneuver came in a speech at Berlin Monday. He said then that the Western powers might keep small garrisons of their forces in West Berlin if they agreed to make that city a "free city" and if a Soviet garrison was also stationed there.

This suggestion seemed to reverse the line he had taken in a note to the United States, Britain, France and West Germany on Nov. 27, when he first made his "free city" proposition and talked about demilitarizing West Berlin.

That was the second move in a series which began Nov. 10, when Khrushchev announced that the

Pittsburgh Bus Crashes Into Crowd; 2 Die

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A bustling intersection in downtown Pittsburgh became a scene of horror Tuesday as a commuter bus jumped a sidewalk and plowed into a crowd during the evening rush hour.

Two persons were killed and 16 were injured, four seriously.

The Brentwood Motor Coach Co. bus was approaching a knot of waiting passengers at Smithfield Street and Forbes Avenue when it veered out of control. The driver said his air brakes failed.

The bus climbed the curb, cut down a fire alarm pole and a street light then tore into the crowd and nosed against a plate glass display window of Kaufmann's department store.

Three of the screaming victims were flung through the window. Several others were trapped under the bus.

One of those killed was Sam Hood, 40, a reporter and art critic for the Pittsburgh Press.

Also killed was Mrs. Sally Flynn Strait, 54, of nearby Baldwin. She was head cashier at the Roosevelt Hotel.

The stunned bus driver, Jay Lane, was treated for minor injuries and released on $10,000 bond pending an inquest on a technical charge of manslaughter. Lane was so distraught he was re-admitted to a hospital shortly after midnight suffering shock.

President Mum On Possible Use Of A-Weapons

Says U.S. Has No Intention of Fighting Europe Ground War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States has no intention of fighting a ground war in Europe.

At a news conference, however, he declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

He said firmly the United States will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

Will Never Back Up
This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis.

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people around Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't be voting all the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

He added, however, that those who are advocating still greater defense spending should have the courage to back higher taxes to pay for it.

He was obviously still standing pat on his defense program in the face of Democratic criticisms.

Eisenhower was asked for his

Liquor Cost To Be Boosted 10 Per Cent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Liquor Control has arrived at a new formula, setting retail prices for liquor, to become effective April 1. It will amount to about a 10 per cent increase, officials said.

Agreement on the cost increase, under study since Gov. Michael V. DiSalle called for 20 million more in revenue from the department, was reached Tuesday night after a conference between liquor director Richard C. Crouch and the Board of Liquor Control.

The increase may not amount to as much as 10 per cent on some brands due to application of the new formula. Previously, the department figured its 30 per cent markup in the basic cost after taking out federal, state and department gallonage taxes. Under the new formula, the department will base its retail price on the total cost to the department, including the gallonage taxes—then taking a 23 per cent markup.

Under the new formula, however, the department's own 50-cent gallonage charge will be eliminated. Federal taxes and the $1 state gallonage tax are mandatory by statute.

In addition to the agreement on the price increase, the director and the board agreed to allow the department to charge $5 for a special order, regardless of the amount, instead of a $1.50 a case as in the past. A special order is that given the department for liquors not carried as regular items in the state stores.

Ohio House OKays Bill To Allow Quail Hunting

By DUANE E. CROFT
News Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio sportsmen Tuesday won House approval of a bill to permit quail hunting in the state for the first time in 46 years.

Opponents, led by Reps. Bernice MacKenzie (D-Stark) and Clara Weisenborn (R-Montgomery) staged a valiant fight to extend the present status of the popular bird for another 10 years.

But sponsors of the bill, including Reps. Guy C. Hiner (R-Stark), Paul Siple (D-Lawrence) and F. K. Cassel (R-Wyandot), carried the day by 93-36 vote.

The same basic argument that have resounded through the legislative chambers every biennium for years on the controversial subject were repeated in the debate marked humor as well as heart-felt appeal on both sides.

As passed the bill would permit quail hunting on land owned or controlled by the state and on private land under agreement between the owner and the state.

The Wild Life Council would set the season and bag limit.

The opponents' major move was an amendment offered by Mrs. Weisenborn to extend to 1969 the present law which places the quail on the game bird list for breeding purposes only. This provision has been in effect since 1949 but will expire next October if no action is taken.

That would permit a hunting season with no specific statutory limitations.

Mrs. MacKenzie, speaking in favor of the amendment, cited the widespread controversy over the issue, which has evoked more mail for many legislators than any other subject before the session.

"This session of the legislature is faced with the danger of digging one-half of its own grave politically," she said. "It is very apt to go down in history as the legislature that raised taxes and shot the quail."

"The majority of the people are very strongly opposed to both. But they may come to the point of forgiving the first by recognizing its necessity."

"There is no necessity for the latter."

She said the bird has no food value in comparison to many other targets which sportsmen now have access to.

She appealed to the legislators to "show ourselves capable of settling this emotional issue and get on to more complex issues that face us."

Hiner and Rep. George M. Hook (D-Brown), leading the arguments for the hunting season, said biological and scientific facts show that the quail is damaged more by human removal of its natural cover and food sources than by hunting.

Hiner cited quail breeding experts' reports that millions of quail of superior quality are produced annually and added that hunting is a multi-million dollar industry.

Hook quoted statistics from Indiana and Illinois, which permit open season on quail, showing that both have higher quail populations than Ohio.

The Weisenborn amendment was tabled by voice vote of the House. After several other amendments have been disposed of the debate was shut off and the roll call taken.

Among those voting for the hunting season were: Cassel, Creasy, Drake, Games, Hiner, Hirsch, LaCione, Lohr, Longworth, Nist, Rice, Riffe, Robinson, Rothel, Siple and Leist.

Included in those voting "no" were: Andrews, Caryl, Fisher, Hinderberger, Lady, MacKenzie and Hildebrand.

Butler Says Kennedy Leads Nomination Race

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Paul M. Butler, Democratic party national chairman, said Tuesday that according to polls, Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) leads the pack for the party nomination as president. But, he said, it's a long time before next year's party convention.

Butler told a news conference he was not writing off Adlai Stevenson as a candidate, but added that to get the nomination, a man must seek it.

"There are a lot of people who think you will have a chance to wear your Stevenson buttons again in 1960," he said. "In my opinion, the country has never had offered to it by either party a man so well qualified to be president as Stevenson."

VOTER TOTAL REDUCED

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Hamilton County Election Board says its annual overhaul of voting records has reduced the number of registered voters by nearly 13 per cent. WOODSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A preliminary hearing will be held Tuesday for two Wheeling, W. Va., men charged with statutory rape of a 15-year-old girl.

Lloyd Abbott, 25, and Joseph Billy Edgell, 24, pleaded innocent at their arraignment here Tuesday.

Pittsburgh Red Probe to End

Agents Say Unions Were Prime Target

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee kept its spotlight today on Communist strategy and techniques in the heavily industrialized Pittsburgh district.

The three-man subcommittee called 12 witnesses at Tuesday's opening session of the scheduled three-day hearing here.

Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Hamp L. Golden of Pittsburgh who publicly revealed for the first time that they were undercover agents for the FBI in the Communist Party nearly 13 years.

Another witness, Reuben J. Hardin of Large, Pa., testified he served off and on as an undercover man in the Communist Party for police agencies and the FBI from 1931 to 1954.

Golden, an employee of H. J. Heinz Co., said the Communist Party in the U.S. is more dangerous now than ever before because it operates underground through various front organizations.

Golden revealed he joined the party in August 1946 at the request of the FBI. His wife joined a year later.

"We were told our principal target was labor unions, particularly in the steel, electrical and food industries and in industries with defense contracts," said Golden.

Hardin testified that Communist leaders in the United States feel that "Pittsburgh is the most important part of the country to control because of its iron and coal."

"I was told that if the party could control coal, it could control the nation," added Hardin.

Except for the Golden and Hardin, all the witnesses cited the Fifth Amendment and other provisions of the constitution in refusing to answer questions.

Subcommittee members are Rep. Edwin E. Willis (D-La.), chairman, and Reps. William M. Tuck (D-Va.) and Gordon E. Scherer (R-Ohio). They hope to wrap up the investigation by Thursday.

Sure And It Was Bad Day For The Irish

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sure and it was a sad day for the Shamrocks of Cleveland.

The Irish folk here had a big shindig Tuesday night for the Shamrocks, launching a new season in the 36-team Gaelic Football Conference. Mick Delahanty's band from the Old Sud was to play.

But Delahanty's boys never touched an instrument. As singer Carmel Quinn explained it, the band had learned that an okay from the International Musicians Union was good only in New York, where Delahanty had appeared previously.

The party went off anyway, and Delahanty and the Shamrocks danced to Irish jigs played by Joe Hruby and his Bohemian band.

Police Hold Girl, 16, In Shooting of Youth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's deputies are holding Sylvia Freeland, 16, today in the fatal shooting of her former boyfriend Donald Redman, 18.

Redman, of nearby Urbancrest, died in Mt. Carmel Hospital Tuesday from a shotgun wound in the chest.

Sgt. Donald Hall said the girl told him Redman had broken into her home this morning and she shot him as he chased her through the house.

No charges have been filed pending further investigation.

A fine burial place for the dead is considered more important than a house for the living in the Ryukyu Islands.

Scotland Yard Hunts Elusive Gem Thieves

LONDON (AP) — Flying squads from Scotland Yard raided the homes of two London gang leaders early today but no trace was found of Lady Norah Docker's missing $420,000 worth of jewels.

The two underworld figures had been spotted in Southampton Monday night a few hours before the jewels were stolen in the port city from the Dockers' parked Rolls Royce.

Homes of suspected fences also were raided. The detectives produced furniture, poked around the floorboards, tapped the walls, peered up chimneys and dipped into water tanks. There was no sign of the missing baubles.

A London insurance firm offered a $42,000 reward.

Lady Norah and her millionaire third husband, Sir Bernard Docker, left the two boxes of jewels and his briefcase in their silver and blue Rolls on a Southampton street while they had dinner Monday night. When they returned the jewel boxes and the briefcase was gone. The car was still locked the windows intact and there were no fingerprints but the Dockers'.

Detectives were convinced the robbery was the work of a gang of specialists that had tailed the couple for months.

MURDER TRIAL OPENS

CINCINNATI (AP) — Opening statements are scheduled today in the first degree murder trial of Lawrence Zwick, 20. Zwick and two teenage companions, to be tried separately, were indicted for the 62-cent robbery-killing of Everett Duncan, 52, Sept. 30. A jury was seated in Criminal Court Tuesday.

Common Stocks and Inflation

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE

Over and over again you are being told that the best way for

So-long folks and thanks a million!

After the fine relationship we've had in Salem this past year I find I must leave you. The Singer Sewing Machine Co. has seen fit to boost me up to manage a larger shop. This has been possible only because of the fine cooperation you people of Salem have given me. I'm happy to get this advancement but very sad to leave all those good friends I've made in town.

I'm sure that you'll find my replacement, Larry Bell, will continue to give you the best of service and some real bargains. He's out to make a big first week in Salem so go in and see what a terrific deal he'll make you on a brand new Iant-O-Matic.

you to fight inflation is to invest in common stocks. The theory here is that common stocks — good ones — appreciate in relation to the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar.

How true is this belief? What proof, if any, is there? Well, here are some comparisons of stocks yields and consumer prices over the past 20 years:

Say back in 1940 you held 260 shares of General Motors. At the then dividend rate of $3.75 your holdings would have netted you pre-tax $975. If you'd bought a four-door, five passenger Buick that year it would have cost $984.

LOOK AT WHAT has happened. Your General Motors stock split 2 for 1 in 1950, 3 for 1 in 1955. Your original holding thus would have increased to 1,560 shares now paying an indicated $2 rate. Your pre-tax return this year would amount to $3,120. The dealers' suggested price on a four-door, five-passenger Buick today is $2,545. There's a better-than-even chance that the net return from your GM holdings will buy the car plus some accessories.

What about a refrigerator? If in 1940 you owned 150 shares of General Electric the annual dividend that you received on this holding equalled $277.50 for which sum you could just about have landed an eight-cubic-foot refrigerator in your kitchen.

What's the picture today?

IN 1954, General Electric split 3 for 1 so now you have 450 shares paying $2 a share against the former $1.85. Thus, your GE holdings nets you pre-tax $900. What about an eight-cubic foot refrigerator? List price this 1959 is $179.

My editors will scold if I wax commercial. Yet, I've got to point out that in those 20 years neither company would have done as well if its research had stood still. The 1940 Buick and the 1940 refrigerator bear little resemblance to their counterparts on today's market. Both are differently engineered products containing new materials, new styling, offering features unknown 20 years ago. How these companies have actually reduced the cost of their product is a story in itself.

What about shoes? I've selected a company that's been in business a long time and sells a diversified line of brand name footwear. To save embarrassment, we'll forget the company's name.

The income from three shares of this company's stock paying an annual dividend of $2.25 a share would have bought you two pairs of the company's popular priced men's shoes in 1940.

Since the company stock split 2 for 1 in 1946, your three shares now would be six. Sadly though, the income on this investment has not kept pace with the increased cost of shoes. Paying $1.55 currently, you'd have just about enough money to buy one pair of the company's comparable 1959 shoes since they sell for $7.99 against the former $3.99.

We trust you get the moral to this tale: Some common stocks offer a hedge against inflation but not every common stock does.

She Found Stamp That Went Well With Letter

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — Doris Koscan entered the Somerset Post Office Monday with a green envelope with brown lettering.

"I want a stamp that will go well with this envelope," Mrs. Koscan told postal employees.

The employees laughed, but when she insisted they showed her all the stamps they had.

She found one too — a four-cent conservation commemorative, colored green and brown.

Physical Fitness for All Pupils

A broadening of the Salem Senior High School athletic program will be possible as the result of plans to purchase much-needed equipment for the school gymnasium.

The Board of Education has agreed to match $1,500 offered by the High School Athletic Association and, as a result, $3,000 will be available to buy mats for wrestling and tumbling, parallel bars and weight-lifters, softball and volleyball equipment and needs for other sports which are expected to include tennis, archery and possibly golf.

Until now the spacious new gym has been limited to basketball and classes in calisthenics for boys and girls. Since any physical fitness program should be all-inclusive, it is encouraging to learn the the gymnasium, as Webster defines it, will be a place for athletic exercises.

It is basketball and football, however, that are making possible the expenditure of funds for the gymnasium equipment. Receipts are up after good seasons in both sports.

A well-rounded program in all sports should be the goal and all students will benefit. It is gratifying to see that this is being accomplished.

Leetonia's Program of Action

The community of Leetonia, not to be outdone by other cities seeking new industries, has moved forward in its industrial development program by hiring a consulting engineer and laying the groundwork for a $15,000 fund campaign to finance the first year's program.

Joseph McSweeney of Norfolk, Va., a Leetonia native who will be the consultant, pointed out to village leaders Monday night the value of an objective program of attracting light industry. He stressed the need for diversified light industry to insure steadier employment.

One thing is in Leetonia's favor. It is a quiet, civic-minded community with a good labor market, fine churches, schools and homes and good transportation facilities. Who could ask for more?

Chairman David Patterson and others on the Leetonia Development Council have indicated that the town's attributes are going to be widely-publicized. A special brochure will be printed.

No one is dreaming in Leetonia. They're putting a plan of action in force. Success is bound to come.

Let There Be Unity

Last week this country advertised that it had achieved unity on its foreign policy as regards Berlin. There were meetings of partisan leaders in the White House, followed by statements that unity had been achieved. Even Adlai Stevenson, nominal leader of the Democratic party, lent his voice to the unity chorus in a speech at Boston. "When the President says we will not give in to force, he speaks for all of us," said Mr. Stevenson.

The purpose of achieving unity by proclamation at this time is to warn the Kremlin that the United States is of one mind about Berlin. But there is a disquieting resemblance between achieving unity by resolution and the fellow who quits smoking by resolution. "It's easy to quit smoking," he explains. "I have done it dozens of times."

The United States never has achieved genuine unity on foreign policy, nor is it ever likely to achieve it as long as free speech in and out of Congress is cherished. True, the whole country can stand back of an official position and invariably does. But there can be no such thing as one mind on the policy that caused an official position to be taken.

Policy is — and should be — subject to never-ending discussion. That is the essence of popular sovereignty, as applied to foreign policy. Merely because differences of opinion should stop at the water's edge, or at the end of the runway, or on the launching pad does not need to be restated. If anyone challenges.

Time after time, this fallacy about unity has been foisted on the American people, with the effect of making them feel they are out of line if they question what is being done in their name beyond the water's edge—or the end of the runway, or the missile launching pad.

For the most part, the political figures who give voice to the fallacy are not deceived by it. Perhaps they do not intend that it should be construed to mean anything, except that the supreme executive authority of the U.S. government is where the Constitution says it is — in the presidency. But that does not need to be restated. If anyone challenged presidential authority in a military matter it would be an act of treason.

But it is not reasonable to carry on a continuous discussion of foreign policy. That is the way the policy must be developed. That is what popular sovereignty means.

Unity cannot be achieved by proclamation, but continuous discussion can achieve majority decisions, which is as close as a representative democracy ever can get to unity.

No Man Can Stand by Himself

Members of Congress do not have to be told that nothing hurts congressional prestige more than charges of nepotism. Cries of protest avoid nothing. Caesar's wife should be above suspicion, and congressmen should be above milking the public payroll.

The fact they can get away with it — and always have got away with it — does not offset the damage it does to the people's faith in representative democracy. Yet, it is a question whether the congressmen who do it really understand what is wrong with nepotism.

They customarily point out when they are criticized that their wife, their son, daughter, niece, nephew, sister, or whoever it is among their relatives they have put on the payroll is "indispensable" — someone who could not be replaced. When reporters checked the House of Representatives payroll last month they found at least 125 of these indispensable people on the staffs of 60 representatives; there presumably are more than that. The Senate has its share, too, it must be assumed, though the Senate reveals no information about its payroll.

What makes nepotism wrong? Simply that it is a gesture of contempt to charge for services that either would be free under other circumstances, or never would be performed.

Once Over

Teen-agers are getting blasted these days. But there's something to be said for them. From kindergarten days up they behold a panorama of luxury, frivolity, lawlessness and screeching behavior "in color." Juvenile delinquency wasn't heard of in the old days but the kids had better examples. Many big successes and celebrities of today are not Horatio Algiers and Frank Merriwells but racketeers, playboys, Hollywood home-busters, mate-snatchers and multiple-mirrage characters.

The teen-agers know more about Frank Costello, Jimmy Hoffa and Al Capone than Abe Lincoln, George Washington and Ben Franklin. They give a puzzled look when asked about Dr. Salk, discoverer of a polio cure. Dr. Schweitzer who has spent his life among the poor and sick, or Marie Curie of the radium family but they know all about Frankie Sinatra, Jimmy Cagney, Liz Taylor, Rosellini and the Gabor sisters.

THEY ARE NOT ALLOWED to say a prayer in public schools and don't know words of the "Star Spangled Banner," but "Tom Dooley," the ballad of a killer about to be hanged, is dishied out to them day and night.

A moppet on the way to school is apt to see a shooting, observe the dead victim of a hit-and-run driver during noon recess and witness a bank stickup on the way home. He's standing on the corner watching all the sadists go by. His movies feature brutal sluggings of helpless opponents. The airwaves bring violent death into his living room. He reads of U.S. congressmen boosting their own pay and putting relatives on the payroll at big money. He has notorious bums in luxury sedans pointed out to him.

The American scene of their fathers and grandpops was dominated by hard-working people whose feet ached from walking. The kid of yesterday saw nothing in the daily scene to make him think it paid to be indolent, extravagant or crooked.

He got his heroes and heroines from schoolbooks and infrequent visits to the Opry House to see "Hearts of Oak." His glamor gal was the bareback rider seen once every summer in the circus.

"Gangster" was an unknown word. A racketeer was supposed to be a tennis player. Hoodlums didn't defy the U.S. Senate, district attorneys and courts. Nobody being taken away in the pokey wagon for a foul crime grinned at spectators.

A kid could reach 14 before knowing there was no Santa Claus. He could reach voting age without ever hearing a pistol fired except on Fourth of July.

THE DEMOCRATS will hold a convention in Los Angeles. They probably wanted to visit Disneyland and see if it could be distinguished from modern political convention.

Grounds for Hope

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Two factors have been neglected in the discussion of the threat of war over the Berlin situation. The first is that the masters of the Soviet are essentially politicians.

Their power is not as absolute as it seems. Despite heavy censorship, there is something of a restraint upon them by palace politics and public opinion.

The threat of war and even war itself are an extension of the play of politics. Hence, after Khrushchev's boorish treatment of Prime Minister Macmillan and his bellicose speech during Macmillan's visit, he added an explanation a few days later.

He was reported to have said that because of an election on March 1, the speech must be taken with the salt that usually is necessary with political utterances, that it was "only an electioneering speech." Americans should be used to that sort of thing.

THE OTHER FACTOR is the military situation of the Soviet Republic. Regardless of missiles and spunkies, the waging of a war with the West must be conditioned by the temper of the ring of satellites that divides Russia from the West. They are no more anxious to provide the battleground for an atomic conflict than are France, Italy, and Britain. And they are closer to the line of conflict, Poland, Hungary, and East Germany are populated by people who by tradition and by the Soviet occupation are permanently steeped in a bitter hatred of Russia and Russians.

At the very outbreak of a general war, with Soviet troops confronted by the Western powers, these satellites would, to use the words of a very competent expert in European affairs, "blow up in the face of Russia."

German blood runs thick and deep, and the Khrushchev gesture of leaving the defense of Berlin to the East Germans is playing with words.

He can have no such real intention. All the elements of revolt in East Germany and Poland, which have already manifested themselves, despite the presence of vast Soviet forces, would flare up with terrific intensity.

We already know that Hungarians have been willing to strike even when odds were hopeless against them. Instead of having satellites to help, the Soviet would have traditional enemies to control.

Nobody but a madman would provoke a real war with this element of instability facing him. And Khrushchev is no madman, however his actions may indicate a dangerous emotional instability.

THE DANGER of watering down the martial spirit of Russian divisions after even a short stay in the proximity of the West is already apparent. Hence, the continuous shifting of divisions from East Germany and other satellites to and from their native soil.

The concept of the Communist world as a monolithic power imbued with the fervor or world conquest is a myth. It is really a very shaky aggregation of incongruous elements.

I can well realize that it is dangerous to make predictions as to what might happen concerning Berlin, just as it was in the case of Matsu and Quemoy. But the facts all point to the improbability of war and the assurance that the Khrushchev regime will continue for a long time the policy of "no war, no peace."

It is no time for Americans to weaken their unity with panic. Never was it more important to hold a firm front.

She's Worth It

Absentee Republicans

By DAVID LAWRENCE

What Happened to 8½ Million Voters In '58

What happened to the 8,600,000 Republicans who voted in 1956 but didn't vote in 1958?

This is the puzzling question that is stirring the Republican party leaders as they strive now to write a platform designed to bring "conservative" and "non-conservative" groups together behind a single expression of party policy.

At first glance, it might be assumed that most of the 8,600,000 Republicans voted Democratic and that, therefore, the Republican platform now might better imitate the Democrats. But a closer look at the Democratic total shows that most of the 8,600,000 Republicans couldn't have voted Democratic. For even if some of them did, this didn't make up for defections from the Democratic party. The total of all votes for the Democratic ticket for members of Congress throughout the nation in the last election was 42,000,000 less in the 1958 congressional elections than the party got in 1956 for members of Congress. Of this total who didn't vote, more than half were in the South. Thus, the loss in the North for the Democrats was about 1,700,000.

TWO FACTS, therefore, stand out. One is that both parties lost votes and, the other, that the Republicans had the larger loss.

But why, it may be asked, do fewer persons vote for members of Congress than for the presidential candidate? A drop-off in the total vote might be expected in an off-year election, because there is no single figure running for office at the top of the ticket but the real question is why the persons who actually go to the polls in a presidential election fail to vote at the same time for members of Congress.

Over a period of 60 years, the gap between the presidential vote and the congressional vote has been steadily widening, irrespective of party. Probably the answer is to be found in the gradual change that has been made in the nature of the ballots in different states and also in the growing population of each state and district. The voters simply do not know the candidates or what they stand for or else the separate ballot for Congress is tossed away by many voters. In the old days, presidential and congressional candidates were on the same ballot, which made it easier for straight-ticket voting.

It's a serious thing to see the voting drop off for members of Congress, who play such a dominant role in making the laws of the land.

It is often true that many voters are indifferent to national issues, or that many do not understand how such issues concretely apply to their own lives.

THE LOSSES apply also to residential districts where it would be assumed that the voters would be well informed on current issues. But just why so many millions do not vote Republican any more is a question that the Republicans themselves are debating.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona is raising the whole question in a series of charts which, as chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, he is preparing to present to leaders and party workers in different parts of the country. These show that only in Arizona, where the Republican party adopted a "conservative" line, did the number of Republican votes actually increase in 1958 over the vote for members of Congress in 1956.

Let it be thought that there is something special or unusual about the 1958 congressional election, the statistics show that the Republicans, while losing 8,600,000 votes as compared with 1956, had a total vote in 1958 of 3,800,000 less than in 1954. This happened even though the voting population in the country was increasing in the interval. It is true there also was a recession in 1954 but the fact remains that the Republicans didn't get out their vote, and the Democrats did.

THE DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS

was due primarily to the superior machinery of the Democrats in getting out the vote, principally in the ranks of union-labor families. Thus, the public opinion polls show that in 1958 the Democrats and 65 per cent to the Democrats and 35 per cent to the Republicans, which is almost exactly what it was two years before in the Eisenhower election.

This means that, as the Democrats got their vote to the polls and the Republicans didn't, the labor vote, being normal, swelled the totals for the Democrats.

The advantage the Democrats have in a labor-union political apparatus that costs many millions of dollars is plain to see. Unless the Republicans find ways of getting out their "conservative" vote, the Congress will be more and more dominated by the "pro-labor" and "pro-radical" blocs which believe in more and more governmental control of everything except their own group activities. A counterpart of the British Socialist Labor party will then emerge in the United States.

Dim View of Things

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Take everything British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said and everything Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said, put them together, mix thoroughly, and what have you got? A pretty dim, un-enthusiastic view of things.

After days of talking together in Moscow Macmillan and Khrushchev publicly agreed they hadn't agreed on much. Macmillan said the Berlin situation has "dangerous implications" which must be settled by negotiation and not by force.

No sooner had Macmillan returned home to London than reports from there said he is convinced troubled times lie ahead in Europe. He began preparing for urgent meetings in Washington, Paris and Bonn.

Meanwhile, the Soviets cut another caper Tuesday, just as ominous as everything else they have pulled recently. Once again they switched from sweet talk of peace to the threat of world war if the Western powers should use force to maintain their status in West Berlin.

Right after the Western Big Three in February proposed to the Soviet Union that their four foreign ministers discuss Berlin and the two Germans, Macmillan flew to Moscow to talk it over with Khrushchev.

Khrushchev had created a bad situation for the West by making a couple of treats as long ago as last November.

He had demanded that the three big Western Allies get their troops out of Berlin by May 27 and threatened to let the East German Communists block any supplies the Big Three tried to send their Berlin garrison after that.

Macmillan was greeted cordially when he first met with Khrushchev.

But while Macmillan was still in the U.S.S.R. Khrushchev hit him in the back of the head by publicly ridiculing the idea of a foreign ministers meeting and announcing that only a summit meeting could solve anything.

Macmillan withstood this affront, talked some more with Khrushchev. On Monday, the day before the Briton left Moscow, the Soviets said they'd agree to the ministers get-together but still thought a summit meeting was the answer. This may have seemed a little concession by the Soviets, a little step back.

But Tuesday, right after Macmillan got home, the Soviets released a note they had sent their satellites. This was another bang on the head for Macmillan.

The note to the satellites said the Soviet Union intended to make good its intentions of letting the East Germans have the say on whether the Western Allies could send supplies to their troops in Berlin.

It repeated a previous Soviet warning that if the West tried to batter its way through an East German blockade there would be war. Then it made mincemeat of the very idea it had agreed to on Monday: a foreign ministers meeting.

The note to the satellites denounced such a meeting — even before the West had a chance to consider the Soviet agreement — and said only a summit meeting could lower tensions.

This is hash. Now the Soviets are sitting back, waiting to see the Western allies try to eat it.

SCHWARTZ'S

Writing Machine

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A boyish-looking ex-Army officer virtually unknown to the public is making a strong bid to become America's best-selling author.

"I never bothered to learn to phrase a sentence in school," dryly remarked John D. MacDonald. But he now earns more in a year than Edgar Allan Poe earned in a lifetime, and is creeping up fast on Erskine Caldwell and Mickey Spillane.

This one-man fiction factory became an author by accident. But he has turned out 38 books and some 500 short stories, novelettes and serials—a total of more than 15 million words—since 1945. His books have sold some 14 million copies in 10 countries.

MacDonald, 42, who emerged from the war as a lieutenant colonel, first turned to his typewriter in 1944 when he was stationed with the Office of Strategic Services in Ceylon.

"The only kind of letters you could get through censorship then made pretty dull reading," he recalled. "So, instead of a letter, I wrote my wife a short story."

"She sold it to a magazine for $25, and I decided right then that it looked like an easy way to earn a living."

But it didn't turn out to be so easy. In the four months of his terminal Army leave MacDonald wrote 800,000 words—the equivalent of 10 books — and lost 20 pounds.

"It was pretty horrible stuff," he acknowledged, "but it taught me my trade. At times I had 50 short stories in the mails at once."

"When they came back rejected and crinkled, I used to iron the pages flat to save the trouble of retyping them and send them out again. Later, I burned them all."

He started clicking in 1946. MacDonald, who is tanned and wears a graying crew cut, lives in Sarasota, Fla. He writes on almost any topic.

He is so prolific that once he had four books published on successive days.

His latest novel, a story of hijinks in an American art colony in Mexico, took him 20 months. It gave him a lot of trouble. But during this same period he turned out four light suspense novels.

What qualities make a writer? "If you're not by nature an omnivorous reader, forget about being a writer," he said. "The one thing that all writers I know have in common is that they are all compulsive readers."

"Secondly, a writer has to be an iconoclast. If you believe all that you are taught, read or told, you will have too standard a mind to become a writer."

"You will lack an individual viewpoint of your own. This a writer must have."

Expansion Program Set by Lisbon Bank

LISBON — Firestone Bank has completed plans for an extensive remodeling and expansion program, Leland S. Firestone, president, announces.

The present building will be extended 14 feet on the north side. The enlargement will allow three more teller windows, making a total of seven, and double the size of the lobby. It will also add to the bookkeeping department. The vault will be enlarged, and an additional fire-proof storage vault provided for the bank's books and records.

The Charles Spokain Bank and Building and Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh, has been employed to do the work.

LATIN TACHERS MEET

LISBON — Latin teachers of Columbiana county schools met in the county school offices Tuesday afternoon to discuss curriculum development in the schools.

Ideas were exchanged for Roman banquets and Junior Classical League activities were discussed. Attending were Mrs. Mary Leathberry of United, Mrs. Marjorie Anderson of Fairfield-Waterford, Miss Lydia Kirk of Salineville and Harry West of Beaver Local. Mrs. Marilyn Solak, high school consultant, led the discussions.

CHILDREN OF THE BIBLE

By Patrick and Garrison

ABSALOM

"But in all Israel, there was none to be so much praised as Absalom for his beauty: from the sole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him."

—II Samuel 14:25

Absalom, the son of David, King of Israel, had many of the qualities that should have made him one of the great men of history. He was handsome, intelligent, and strong.

But he brought grief to his father who loved him deeply.

Of Absalom's childhood, the Bible gives us only a hint. It appears that he was David's favorite son. For this reason he was no doubt over-indulged and spoiled by too much affection.

Thus, as he grew up, his disposition began to show evil signs of violence and deceit.

But it was always Absalom the beautiful child that remained in David's memory. When Absalom fled after killing his brother Amnon, we can imagine David's thoughts in many a twilight:

"Do you remember, Absalom my son, how in the soft summer evenings now forever gone, we walked together in the garden? You loved the gray-winged moths, and when I lifted you, you begged, 'O let me fly like them!'"

"Absalom, my son, we walked through the ripening wheat. And I spoke the same thoughts that had enlightened Abraham: the Will of God is gentle. His Will is love; and man can share His love, but only through service, not taken in the manner of beasts."

"You listened, my son, but you did not hear. I spoke of my plan for a Temple, designed as a symbol and a reminder to man that the real temple to God is man himself. That a man lives his belief; thus he worships God. There is no other worship."

"But your mind was upon the cry of a wild bird. And you turned away when I said: 'I have slain in this world where to slay is to survive. But there was no evil in my purpose. Let the way of His provision be shown unto you, my son. Choose the way of Life, not of death.' You paused then, and gave a little thought to this. But you were not warned by it."

"O Absalom, my son, my son!"

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Chances for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to take the Republican presidential nomination were jacked up last Tuesday by a band of Democratic

Victor Riesel

Texans roving the U. S. congressional offices. Mr. Rockefeller may not be aware of all this. The band of Texans certainly were not aware of it. But they were definitely part of a mass move in Washington which has been helping the New York governor's chances against Vice President Nixon.

We can start this sagebrush-less saga of the Texans at the moment when they walked quietly into the senatorial headquarters of Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson.

The Texans inadvertently interrupted an off-the-record meeting between the Senate majority chief and the chief of the AFL-CIO, George Meany.

The labor leader was discussing the proposed anti-racketeering bills with the Senate leader. But Meany did not mind being interrupted.

These were not Lyndon Johnson's Texans. They were George Meany's Texans. They were part of the 3,500 delegates to the fifth annual legislative conference of the Building and Construction Trades Dept. of the AFL-CIO. They had met in full convention the day before with similar delegations from all the other states, including Alaska.

THEY WERE second- and third echelon officials from the Plumbers, the Electricians, the Carpenters, the Iron Workers and the other unions which lay the roads, hack out harbors and send buildings scraping the skies.

They visited their regional congressmen in state delegations. Unlike the past, they did not just leave their business cards. They came in groups. They had been briefed on lobbying. They did not take too much time.

They came with special research kits. They had charts, graphs and documents which they said backed up their drive for special laws for a 35-hour week, for more money for construction of airports, schools and housing. They carried special questionnaires, printed in advance.

They asked specific questions on whether the unions would support their proposals and their version of the Kennedy-Erwin labor reform bill.

THEY THEN TURNED their questionnaires in for tabulation by Building and Construction Trades Dept. researchers.

And like the Texas group, which also sought out that state's lone Republican congressman, the delegations were non-partisan in their talk and approach. Naturally they were closer to the Democratic congressman. But not in all states.

Many of the delegates are traditional Republicans. For years their unions have supported Republican candidates all along the line. But all the delegations hewed to the non-partisanship of their lobbying. Even after hours. They ran cocktail parties for all the congressmen from their states.

Tuesday night, for example, the Ohio Building Trades had a dinner and were genial hosts to the two feuding senators as well as to the other Democratic and the GOP people from the Buckeye State.

Their lobbying impressed the Republican congressmen. That was the talk in the Capitol Hill Club where a Democrat couldn't win a poll at a table for two. The talk throughout the week, was that this traditionally conservative labor lobby was now as slick, as publicity minded, as TV-ed as the militant CIO bloc.

AND THE TALK was that the GOP, or at least the congressmen who had been visited by the old line AFL construction union officials, would want a national candidate who would not antagonize such forces.

Immediately the conversations turned to Gov. Rockefeller and Vice President Nixon — and their subliminal strategic drives for labor support.

The word is, and it can be corroborated by the results of interviews with Republican leaders across the country, that Rockefeller already is beginning to build his machine for the 1960 convention.

There is no doubt that he wants the presidential nomination. There is no doubt that the Eastern Republicans are saying that only Mr. Rockefeller can neutralize some of the labor machine power.

And after listening to all the visiting delegations from Texas to Alaska many of the GOP congressmen were impressed by the argument that they would need to woo or at least neutralize labor. Even the conservative union chiefs are on the march.

Sebring Teachers Plea for Unity In Mahoning District

"In order to continue our progress toward high standards of education, the Mahoning Local School District must remain in existence."

This statement was made by the teachers of Sebring McKinley High School Tuesday when they went on record in an open letter to the people of Sebring concerning the controversy existing in the Mahoning Local School District.

The teachers pointed out that "if our district is divided again, the line of division would most likely follow the corporate lines of the Village of Sebring." In this case, they explained, with Sebring set up as an isolated school district, the school enrollment will drop from 615 students in grades nine through 12, to 249 students.

This number, the teachers state, is only slightly above the minimum enrollment that the state requires. "If 10 students left the district, our high school would lose its charter," they said.

They went on to explain that Sebring Village has never before been a school district by itself, and it is extremely doubtful that Sebring could financially survive if the district is split.

The teachers stated, "If Sebring is made into an isolated school district it will force the school to teach rocket-age students by horse-and-buggy standards."

The teachers made a plea for cooperation among the residents of the area. "As parents and educators, we cannot take this sort of gamble with our children's future. We cannot allow ourselves to be confused or emotionally aroused to the point that we lose sight of the facts, and cause our children to suffer."

Khrushchev

Western powers must get out of the German city and said that the Soviet Union intended to turn over its occupation functions in East Berlin to the East German Communist regime. The announcement immediately raised the specter of a new Berlin blockade.

As a result of diplomatic exchanges since that time, there is now conditional agreement on an early foreign ministers conference to deal with German problems.

There also is the prospect of a summit meeting later in the year, bringing together Khrushchev and President Eisenhower along with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle.

certified 83 persons to administer first aid, according to Albert Hanna, chairman of the local chapter.

The chapter also distributed dressings for the Cancer Society, loaned hospital equipment to deserving persons, furnished information and help to travelers.

Twelve schools were enrolled in the Junior Red Cross program in 1958, which saw the members pack 50 gift boxes, provide grocery baskets for the needy at Christmas and Easter, and sent two persons to the Red Cross leadership training center.

Eisenhower

reaction to Khrushchev's proposal for a four-power guard in West Berlin.

The President replied with some asperity that he doesn't expect to be in the business of reacting instantly to one of Mr. Khrushchev's wisecracks or whatever the Soviet Premier calls them.

The free world is going to use the same democratic procedure that the United States uses in dealing with such problems, Eisenhower said. He said that is the process of debate before decision.

Eisenhower was asked if he thinks the Soviets should be given a plain warning that nuclear war might result if the Communists cut off access to West Berlin.

He replied that he doesn't know how you can free anything with nuclear weapons. He said that if there is any push in the direction of real hostilities over Berlin it is going to come from the side of the Soviets.

Doesn't Forsee Hostilities
Eisenhower said he can't believe that anybody is going to make hostilities of this kind a reality.

In advance of a White House news conference, Eisenhower was depicted as determined to hold military spending to the 41-billion-dollar level he set in his budget for the year beginning July 1.

Iraq

was plain he referred to the U.A.R. Street demonstrations staged in Baghdad to support Kassem turned into anti-Egyptian rallies.

Nasser's news agency accused Iraq of taking "provocative measure against the U.A.R." As yet, however, there was no retaliatory expulsion of Iraqi diplomats from Cairo.

Details of the army revolt were still sketchy.

Diplomatic informants said the rebels had pulled out of the northern oil center of Mosul where Col. Abdel Wahhab Shawaf and a group of pro-Nasser followers launched the rebellion Sunday.

A terse report from Baghdad radio indicated the government had regained control of Mosul sometime Tuesday. It said the military governor of Iraq had clamped a curfew on the northern city.

Navy Stands Out As Team To Watch In NCAA Tournament

Middies Blast North Carolina

W. Virginia, Boston Also Score Victories

Unsung Navy stood out today as the team to watch — if not the team to beat — as the NCAA basketball tournament moved toward its weekend regional doubleheaders at Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan. and San Francisco.

On a night when West Virginia won its first NCAA tournament game in five years of trying, Navy emerged with most of the attention after beating North Carolina, 76-63.

The Middies, as well balanced and finely tuned as a machine, simply dismantled Frank McGuire's rebuilt Tar Heels in the windup of a first round Eastern regional tripleheader at Madison Square Garden.

West Virginia — an 82-68 winner over Dartmouth's Ivy League champions, and the Middies advanced to the second round with Boston University, Marquette and Louisville.

West Virginia scored its long-awaited victory — ending a jinx of our straight first round defeats, and Boston U. whipped Connecticut with a spectacular rally, 60-58, in other New York games. With St. Joseph's (Pa.), the Middle-Atlantic champ which drew a first round bye, the three winners set up camp at Charlotte Friday and Saturday to pick the Eastern region's representative for the national semifinals at Louisville, March 20.

Marquette whipped Bowling Green 89-71 and Louisville turned back Eastern Kentucky 77-63 in first round play in the Midwest regional at Lexington, Ky. They join defending NCAA champion Kentucky and Big 10 champ Michigan State in the Midwest wrapup at Evanston, Friday and Saturday.

With only one first round game remaining, New Mexico State vs. Idaho State at Las Cruces, N.M. tonight, the Friday regionals shape up this way:

Eastern at Charlotte: West Virginia (26-4) vs. St. Joseph's (Pa.) (23-3); Boston U. (19-6) vs. Navy (17-5).

Mid-Eastern at Evanston: Louisville (17-10) vs. Kentucky (23-2); Marquette (23-4) vs. Michigan State (18-3).

Mid-Western at Lawrence, Kan.: Texas Christian (19-5) vs. Cincinnati (23-3); DePaul (13-9) vs. Kansas State (24-1).

Far Western at San Francisco: St. Mary's (Calif.) (18-5) vs. New Mexico State-Idaho State winner; California (21-4) vs. Utah (21-5).

The four winners in Saturday's regional finals move into Louisville's Freedom Hall for the collegiate showdown March 20-21.

"Navy can go all the way in this tournament," said McGuire, who had won 20 of 24 games with a sophomore-junior team molded after his NCAA champions of two years ago were graduated. "They might run into trouble with a big team like Kansas State, but I'll bet Ben can find the answer. He usually does."

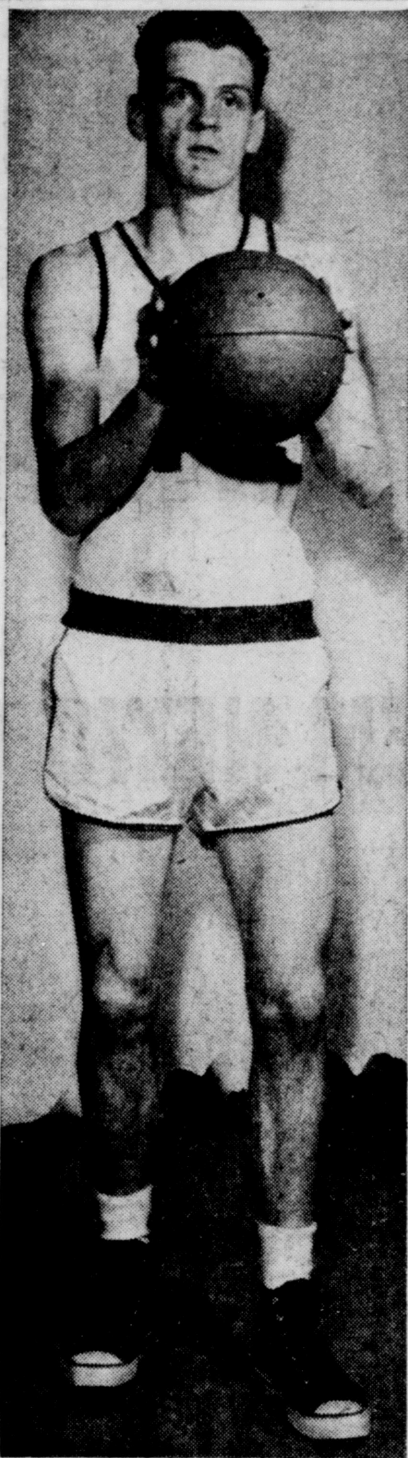

Ben is Ben Carnevale, the gray-haired Navy coach who formerly coached at North Carolina and is one of McGuire's closest friends. The big scorers were Jay Metzler with 20 points and flame-haired Dick Johnson with 16.

On the small school level, defending champ Tennessee A&T led an 8-game program that completed the two-day first round in the week-long NAIA tournament in Kansas City. Advancing with the champs were Youngstown, Westminster (Pa.), Lenoir Rhyne, Fairleigh-Dickinson, Illinois Normal, Southwest Texas, and Georgia Teachers.

The NCAA small college tournament goes into its quarter-final stage at Evansville, Ind., today with North Carolina A&T vs. American U., South Dakota State vs. Los Angeles State in a afternoon games, and tonight, Hope (Mich.) vs. Southwest Missouri, and St. Michaels (Vt.) vs. Evansville.

TIED IN BOWLING

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Joe David and Tim Moran, Canton, Ohio, continue to hold a tie for second place in doubles standings, and Ken Kappenberger and Warren Lutz, Bucyrus, Ohio, remain in seventh place, after Tuesday's competition in the American Bowling Congress Tournament here.

LINCOLN'S TOP SCORER — Jim Osborn, the 6-1 center of the Canton Lincoln Lions, will be the man the Salem Quakers will have to stop tonight at Kent in their semi-final regional game slated to begin at 8 in the Kent State U. field house. Osborn is averaging 18.3 points a game and has been directly responsible for the Lions current 20-3 record.

Veck Buys Control of White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Veck and his syndicate have purchased control of the Chicago White Sox but hopes for a "friendly working arrangement" with co-Vice President Charles Comiskey may not be so easy.

Veck's group put up $2,700,000 Tuesday and bought 54 per cent of the club from Comiskey's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Rigney.

Having completed the purchase, Veck said he and former major league star Hank Greenberg, a member of the eight-man syndicate, will serve temporarily as executive assistants to John Rigney, Dorothy's husband and co-vice president with Comiskey.

Comiskey, who was scheduled to leave Tampa, Fla., for Chicago Tuesday night, chuckled when the Chicago Sun Times asked him about Veck and Greenberg coming into the organization as executive assistants.

"Who's going to pay them?" asked Chuck. "They can't be officers of the corporation unless they are voted in by the board of directors. And they can't be on the payroll unless I sign the checks."

"Anyway," he continued, "as I understand it, the only stock they actually have title to is the 1,694 shares that Dorothy owns outright. The rest still is tied up in the estate and we have appealed the entire case to the circuit court. The case won't be heard for 20 days and it could be as long as 60 days."

Comiskey was referring to his efforts to prevent Dorothy from selling her stock to Veck. He lost his bid to stop the sale in probate court and has since appealed.

Lane Not Alarmed By McList Beating

MEA, Ariz. (AP) — General Manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians was not alarmed by the beating Cal McLish, the Tribe's veteran right-hander, took from the Chicago Cubs here Tuesday.

"Compared with the way the guy looked a year ago," Lane said, "he was a champion out there today."

The Cubs batted around and scored five runs in the first inning and added another run in the second, but McLish set them down in order in the third.

Indians Lose 9-3 to Chicago

Braves, Red Sox, Reds Are Winners

By The Associated Press
Smoky Burgess now is in the Smoky City, where as catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates he removes some of the pressure on Ed Bailey the big Cincinnati Reds receiver. Bailey was a disappointment last season when he hit only .250 in 112 games. He may have been somewhat off balance knowing Burgess was waiting in the wings. Burgess appeared in 99 games in 1958, and usually caught the second game of a doubleheader.

Burgess was sent to Pittsburgh in the deal that brought Frank Thomas, the Pirates' demon third baseman, to Cincinnati.

Cincinnati and Kansas City were 0-0 after six innings Tuesday in their exhibition game at West Palm Beach, Fla., when Bailey walked a 3-run homer off Ralph Terry that gave the Reds a 4-3 victory over the Athletics. Whitey Herzog hit a 3-run homer for the A's in the last half of the seventh.

The Chicago Cubs registered their first Cactus League victory in three games by defeating the Cleveland Indians 9-3 at Mesa, Ariz. The Cubs scored five runs in the first inning off Cal McLish, the Indians' 16-game winner. Tony Taylor, Cubs second sacker, hit 3-for-3.

Milwaukee and the New York Yankees met at St. Petersburg, Fla., and the Braves made it two in a row over the world champions, winning 5-2. Whitey Ford held the Braves to one hit in three innings, but Milwaukee got three runs off Tom Sturdivant in the fifth. Hank Aaron homered for the BBraves in the eighth. Andy Carey's two-run homer in the seventh saved the Yankees from a shutout.

The Boston Red Sox won their third straight, thumping the San Francisco Giants 8-2 at Phoenix, Ariz. Frank Malzone, Boston third baseman, drove in four runs with two hits.

At Lakeland, Fla., the Detroit Tigers defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 when Johnny Groth's sacrifice fly scored Ossie Alvarez in the seventh inning.

In another close one at Tampa, Fla., the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-2. Two rookies, Jim McDaniel and Rocky Nelson, singled in the seventh inning and the Pittsburgh Pirates tallied three runs to down the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

Home runs by Julio Becquer, Rener Bertoia and J. W. Porter powered the Washington Senators to a 6-5 night victory over Baltimore at Miami. The Orioles all most pulled the game out with three runs in the seventh and two in the ninth.

Mantle Is Nursing Shoulder Injury

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mantle stayed at the New York training camp today nursing a sore shoulder while the Yankees trekked to Orlando for an exhibition game with the Washington Senators.

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, club physician, ordered Mantle to take it easy for three or four days after the $80,000 centerfielder apparently aggravated his right shoulder throwing to first base during an exhibition game with the Milwaukee Braves Monday.

Mantle came out for batting practice Tuesday, and reported his shoulder was bothering him again. He injured it in the third game of the 1957 World Series when he collided with Red Schoendienst in a play at second base. The shoulder bothered him at times last year.

Gaynor sent Mickey to the hospital for X-rays, which proved negative.

"I told him he could work out, but not to throw the ball for several days," Gaynor said.

The injury hampered Mickey last spring and the switch-hitter couldn't bat left-handed without pain. In June he was given treatments, and apparently the trouble was corrected.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

Akron Central is a big team. The Wildcats' tallest starter is 6-7 Nate Thurmond who has tallied 243 points in helping Joe Siegfert's team post an unblemished record in 19 games this season.

Right "below" him in height is 6-6 Billy Sparks, their 230-pound center. He has 190 points in 19 contests for a 10-point average. The Wildcats' leading scorer is flashy 6-4 Elijah Chatman. This all-state candidate has tossed in 299 tallies for a 15.7 average. Siegfert's two other regulars are 6-2 Jim Jones and 5-9 Billy Stevens. Jones has 159 points and Stevens 181.

If Central would ever play Cleveland East Tech the tilt would take on the aspects of a professional endeavor since each quintet is obsessed with height.

The Wildcats and the Quakers have met two common foes this season in Akron St. Vincent and Akron East. Central smashed St. Vincent 62-30 and won over East 66-46 while St. Vincent took St. Vincent 99-51 and East 78-61.

Of Central's 19 victories, 14 have been the result of Akron city league wins. They beat Kent Roosevelt twice and own a 72-57 decision over Columbus East, a team presently in the Toie-to regional.

Central is averaging 63 points a game which isn't that high but they have compiled a terrific defensive mark of only 40.3. The most points they have scored in any one game has been 79 while the most any one opponent has manufactured has been 63.

I HAVE NEVER seen Central play but the following are my "observations" on what I have merely read and heard about the tall and talented Wildcats.

I think they play primarily a zone defense. For example, with three big men underneath I think they force their opponents to shoot the majority of their shots from the outside. It would appear net to impossible to consistently spring a man loose underneath against their gigantic size.

Their 40.3 defensive mark I think has been compiled because of a tight zone, poor shooting by opponents, a deliberate offense by both Central and their foes and because of a type of play similar to that used by East Tech.

Tech scored a lot against Salem following five or six tips after a missed shot. I think Central scores quite a bit in this manner because even with four men over 6-foot they have a so-so offensive standard.

Who can say whether Central or East Tech has played a rougher schedule. However, there has to be an explanation of why Tech's offensive average (well over 80) is so much greater than Central's.

I think it is because Tech runs via the fast break a lot more than Central. Central must not substitute very much or when they do their "bench" must play very long. The Akronites have amassed 1,197 points in 19 games with their five starters accounting for 1,072 of this figure. This means their bench has tossed in only 122 points in 19 games.

BY COMPARISON Salem's five starters have tallied 1,495 of the team's total amount of 1,781.

This means the Quakers' reserve team has 286 points of their team's total. However, Salem has played four more games than Central.

I think if any team is to stop Central's long win streak and prevent the Wildcats a trip to Columbus they must exhibit the following four factors. They are, a keen shooting eye, blinding speed, sharp ball-handling and passing and 100 per cent aggressiveness. But above all, the victor of the Wildcats must have a gallant heart and a fighting spirit so vitally needed to conquer such a challenge.

Pitching Staff Tigers' Best Point, Team Manager States

AFFON, Mo. (AP) — The trades we've made this winter have improved the Detroit club. The addition of Ray Narleski and Don Mossi gives us a good bullpen. Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges, whom we acquired from Washington, should make us better defensively at third and short. Lou Berberet, whom we got from Boston, can help the catching staff.

The weaknesses of our club last year were as follows:

1. Lack of power. 2. Not enough pitching depth. 3. A defensive weakness on the left side of the infield.

We felt in order to correct these weaknesses, we had to make some trades.

We still need a power hitter, a stronger bench and we could use more catching help. I think our

New York Gets Patterson Fight

City Businessmen Launch Sports Drive

NEW YORK (AP)—This city's capture of the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight for Yankee Stadium June 23 is just the beginning of a drive by business interests to make New York a flourishing sports center again.

"This fight means 60 million dollars in business for New York," said Bill Zeckendorf Sr., hotel chain owner and realtor. "We and the other business interests in New York were determined to get the fight."

"This is just the beginning. We intend to bid for major league baseball, football and other boxing shows. This is only in our self-interest. Whatever we lose to other cities means a loss to hotels here and other businesses."

Fight promoter Bill Rosenzohn disclosed at a press conference Tuesday that it was "a dramatic, last minute guarantee of $600,000 by Bill Zeckendorf and his son that swung me in favor of New York City."

"I'm telling you frankly that I was all set to have the fight in Chicago until that bid was made Monday. Ragnar Benson of Chicago had guaranteed me $500,000. The move by Zeckendorf and other industrial leaders apparently means that solid backing will be given to mayor Robert Wagner's movement to get a second major league baseball team in New York to make up for the shift of the Dodgers and Giants to California."

Rosenzohn said he expected to gross at least a million dollars at Yankee Stadium. He also figures to clear a minimum of $300,000 from either home television or theater television. He said he already has reservations for 4,200 seats from fans in Sweden.

Zeckendorf's guarantee of $600,000 cross receipts seems a cinch to cost him nothing.

LISBON—The Columbiana County Fish and Game Association has completed plans for a turkey and ham shoot to be held Sunday at the club's shooting range east of Elkton.

Muzzleloading rifles and shot guns will be used in the matches which will start at noon. Lunch will be served.

Kiwanis Tops Post Office In Volleyball

The Kiwanis Club won the city volleyball championship by defeating the Post Office 3-1 in their best of five game playoff for the title last night at the Memorial Building.

Kiwanis took the first two games 15-2 and 15-11. The Post Office won the third tilt 17-15 but Kiwanis came back strong in the fourth game with a 15-1 victory to sew up the crown.

The Post Office had won the first half while Kiwanis had emerged the second half champ in regular season play.

Howe Reaches Goal Milestone 9th Season

By The Associated Press
Detroit's Gordie Howe has supplied some fresh data for the endless debate — who's the greater hockey player, Howe or Montreal's Maurice (The Rocket) Richard?

The two have been the dominant figures in the National Hockey League for more than a decade. They are the most proficient scorers in league history.

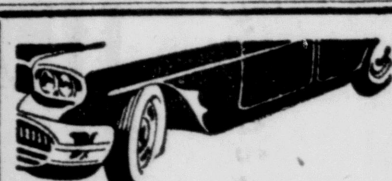

In Tuesday night's lone NHL game, Howe equaled another of the records The Rocket set with the Montreal Canadiens. He triggered his 29th and 30th goal of the season for the Detroit Red Wings in their 5-5 deadlock with the rocketless Canadiens.

It was the ninth time in the last 10 seasons Howe has reached the 30-goal milestone. Richard, how ever, has scored 30 times in nine different campaigns. He wasn't in Detroit to watch Howe notch his two markers. The Rocket, recuperating from a broken leg, was in Czechoslovakia, attending the world amateur championships.

The 37-year-old Frenchman still retains a commanding edge as the NHL's all-time goalgetter with 525 in 17 seasons. Howe, who won't be 31 until March 31, now has 416 in 13 seasons.

Struck Out 14 In Series

Batters Shake; Duren Can't See Plate, Throws 'Bullets'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — This was Ryne Duren, the New York Yankee relief pitcher.

He's the guy who throws bullets, and can't see home plate, making batting against him a rather risky proposition.

Batters shake in their boots when he comes into the game, and he took advantage of their fright by saying 18 games for the Yankees last season. In the World Series he struck out 14 Milwaukee Braves in nine and a third innings.

A visitor's idea was to find out how much of Duren's weak eyesight is an act.

HE'S TALL and good looking and he was leaning against the batting cage. He denied right off that he seeks psychological effect by such tricks as, apparently accidentally, throwing over the catcher's head and hitting the backstop, or peering in as if he can't see the catcher.

"When I warm up," he said, "I don't know where the ball is going any more than anybody in the grandstand. I don't fool around with half-speed warmups. I turn the ball loose right away to see where it will go.

"Sometimes it does go over the catcher's head and hit the screen. That's all."

DUREN, 30, witty and easier to talk to than many ball players, spoke with such assurance that the inclination was to believe him. "Say, I was even wilder in the minors," he confessed. "When I pitched for Dayton in the Ohio-Indiana League back in 1951 I walked 194 in 19 innings and struck out 23.

"One Ohio sportswriter—I can't think of his name at the moment—said in his paper, There will be a double header today and Ryne Duren will pitch the three-hour opener.

"Then Lefty O'Doul had me at Vancouver. He taught me not to aim for the center of the plate, but for a corner of the strike zone. So if I aim for the left corner, say, and the pitch sails to the right, I correct my aim like a rifle sight that's off."

HE SAID Casey Stengel had used a line during the winter banquet circuit saying he gave Duren new glasses and then, while his control was bad, gave him a dirty rag to clean them with.

"I used the gag, too," Duren related. "I would get up to speak and pull out a greasy rag and start to wipe the glasses. Killed them with that one!"

Duren, latest in the line of ace Yankee relievers, from Wilcy Moore to Joe Page, had a knee operation last winter which has mended nicely.

"NO, I HAVE no idea of wearing contact lenses. These are fine," he said, pulling off his spectacles with the bottoms as thick as milk bottles.

The visitor said that when Tommy Byrne was the "wild man" of the American League he roomed with a rookie, Bob Weisler, also minus control.

"Wonder how those guys ever get into the hotel room?" somebody asked. "Neither of them could find the keyhole."

Duren said it was a funny story and, wiping off his glasses, went to work warming up.

And he hit the strike zone with the first pitch—believe it or not. Duren looked at the visitor and winked with a mischievous grin.

'Indian City U.S.A.' To Be Feature of Sportsmen's Show

When the American and Canadian Sportsmen's Vacation and Boat Show opens at Cleveland's Public Auditorium Friday, one of the outstanding new features will be "Indian City U.S.A."

Here sixteen full-blooded Oklahomans, — Cheyennes, Arapahoes, Cherokees, Yuchis, Creeks and Chickasaws will exhibit their arts and crafts. In a special arena type theater, they will sing, dance and perform ancient ceremonies.

Authentic in every detail and arranged with the help of the U.S. Government Bureau of Indian Affairs, "Indian City's" inhabitants will range in age from little Charlie Whitehorse, 5-year-old champion dancer, to venerable Chief Little Face, 97-year-old Tribal Elder, the only living Indian who witnessed Custer's famous massacre at Little Big Horn.

Three teen-age princesses will act as hostesses and lecturer guides. Women's champion Indian archer Bessie Sorethum will perform at her own archery range and also demonstrate the Indian's way of making bows and arrows.

Also new to this year's show will be the Sports and Foreign Car Festival, a comprehensive showing of the latest in European sport and economy automobiles. Fifty models representing the products of some thirty foreign factories will be displayed. Special decorations and exhibits of racing cars will add interest to the showing.

Strickland Behaves Strangely for Man Who Quit Baseball

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — George Strickland, the balding shortstop who wore off baseball last year, is behaving mightily strangely for a man who has quit the game.

He lately has been observed consorting openly with the Cleveland Indians.

Evidence that Strickland might have fallen back into his old ways seemed to gather compelling force when he was found sitting in the Cleveland dressing room. He was wearing a Cleveland uniform and perspiring most suspiciously.

Under skillful questioning, he broke down and talked, seeming almost relieved to get the whole thing out in the open.

"You kinda miss the game after playing it 12 or 13 years," he said. "After I quit last year, I didn't pick up a bat. The only games I saw all season were on TV.

"I quit for personal reasons, which I won't go into. They seemed sound at the time, and I guess they still are.

"My decision to come back didn't result from just any one thing. It was an accumulation of things. Near the end of the summer, I wrote Frank Lane (the Cleveland general manager) and asked Commissioner Frick to be reinstated. I felt that I'd kept myself in good shape and figured I could play a few more years.

"I thought spring training was really going to be tough this time. But I'm a little amazed at the shape I'm in already.

"I don't know what the club is thinking, but if I'm hitting picked up a little I think I'd have as good a shot as anyone at one of the infield positions."

Strickland, who has a lifetime major league batting average of .222, is the oldest infielder on the Cleveland roster, with the exception of 40-year-old Mickey Vernon. George was 33 in January.

Twyman Is Second In NBA Scoring

CINCINNATI (AP)—It's a little ironic, but the most hopeless pro basketball team this season had the National Basketball Assn.'s second hottest scorer.

He is John Kennedy Twyman, eagle-eyed 6-foot-6 veteran who tossed in 1,859 points for Cincinnati's Royals this season.

He didn't reach his mark until Tuesday night when he netted a final 26 points for the Royals against Philadelphia's Warriors in the last game for each team.

But the Royals lost anyway, 102-96. Twyman's team won only 19 games this year and lost 52, finishing in the Western Division basement.

The St. Louis Hawks' Bob Pettit has the season scoring leadership sewed up with more than 2,000 points to his credit and another game to play.

The Royals have been troubled with assorted injuries this season and the team has not been a conspicuous success at the gate.

Alliance Gridders May Take to Air

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Alliance High School football team may become the first in Ohio to travel to and from a scheduled game by air.

Coach Mel Knowlton said tentative plans have been made to charter a plane to take the team to Cincinnati next Oct. 16 for a game with Cincinnati Elder. If arrangements can be completed, the team plans to return to Alliance by air immediately after the game.

AMMO-PHOS

FERTILIZERS
ARE HIGHLY WATER SOLUBLE

Experiments prove that crops take up more phosphate from water soluble AMMO-PHOS Fertilizers than from ordinary mixed fertilizers.

LET US DEMONSTRATE THIS EASY TEST!

AMMO-PHOS fertilizers are highly water soluble and we can prove it by simply placing the same amount of ordinary fertilizer in another equal amount of water. You'll be able to see how water soluble AMMO-PHOS goes into solution while the ordinary fertilizer collects at the bottom of the glass. You'll know then why AMMO-PHOS fertilizers give the quickest response to crops.

Question and Answers

Q-What name is given to the white half-moon at the base of the fingernails?
A-It is called lunule or lunula.
Q-How many Magi visited the Christ-child?
A - According to the Scriptures all that is known is that the number was more than one. Some claim there were 15; others 12. But most persons believe that the well-known names of three represent the unknown number because of the three gifts (gold, frankincense and myrrh) presented to the Christ-child.
Q-What is embraced in the term Orthodox Christians?
A - The Orthodox Christians are those who are neither Roman Catholics nor Protestants. They are of the Eastern or Greek rite, and its variations, such as the Russian, Latvian or Syrian.
